

How can CommuniCare amplify the programs at my school?

CommuniCare is a service-learning project that combines a variety of important skills into an empowering, student-led experience. The program is inspired by the belief that everyone has something important to contribute and, by working together, we can create lasting change.

Because there are so many demands on students' time, CommuniCare is most successful when it amplifies existing programming. The content integrates seamlessly into many different class and club settings, while our Resource Binder provides ready-to-use tools for each of the grantmaking tasks, so teachers and students are supported throughout the process.
